

MDDS Low-Latitude Stratification

Off-plane displacement creates separated latitude bands; light pressure supplies only the vertical component.

Architecture intuition

- Collectors remain primarily orbital
- SRP supplies only off-plane component
- Bands share a common stellar axis
- Geometric layering, no nodal crossings
- Low latitude = lowest β requirement

Solid = front half, dashed = back half